Program for pedagogical purpose:

Goal: a program that would facilitate the contact between students and teachers outside and inside the classroom that would be formal and that would give limited control to the students.

Features:
- Communication between teacher and student for a specific module, by instant messages.
- Teacher has admin position and can invite the student of the class via a link or email invitation or with use of some kind of code, to join the group and participate.
- Teacher can upload documents so the students can see.
- Description of the module
- FAQ where students can ask questions about the class (even anonymously?)
- Maybe give a higher level of access to delegues of the class
- Have a QCM module where they can vote on stuff quickly in the class or do a poll about something that the professor created in advance.
- Give grades to the students with a private message, by uploading a list of grades, they get sent to each student individually.
